New Briefing Paper: Stakeholder Engagement Workshop

DHI is delighted to have been part of a collaboration with the Systems Engineering and Thinking to Transform Transitions (SET4) and the Advanced Care Research Centre (ACRC) on a new briefing paper.

This paper reports on the findings from a stakeholder engagement workshop summarising key takeaways from a diverse group of health and care professionals, academic researchers, industry experts, policymakers, and representatives from various organisations. The key takeaways focus on optimising care transitions for adults living with multiple long-term conditions (MLTC).
